EXPOSITION TAX
WILL NOT BE FELTBay Counties and Railroads Will Pay More Than Half

Ever since the State Legislature, in special session, provided a method whereby all California might assume some portion of the expense of conducting the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, estimates of the cost to the individual taxpayer, the various cities and the different counties have been made. It has been figured, for instance, that a single county in Southern California, with a slender population, would be forced to pay over $60,000 during a period of four years and that Los Angeles county would contribute an alleged total altogether unreasonable.

To correct all misapprehensions and to furnish the citizens of the State with an exact statement as to the amount that the exposition tax will require from each individual, appeal was made to State Controller A. B. Nye, who has furnished, over his own signature, an estimate which cannot be doubted or misunderstood. The result was a surprise to even the exposition directors, who are confident that with a proper understanding of the subject the constitutional amendment providing for State investment in the 1915 enterprise will be given an overwhelming vote.

Controller Nye's figures show conclusively that the normal increase in assessment to be expected in 1911 will oblige San Francisco, the five adjoining bay counties and the railroads of the State to assume more than half of the exposition tax. So, for the first year, during which the exposition tax will be largest, a total of less than $625,000 must be raised among the fifty-two counties outside of those adjoining San Francisco.

Mr. Nye's figures do not show one of the features of California's assessment that makes this reckoning certain. It is a fact, however, that the combined assessment of San Francisco, Alameda, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Marin and Contra Costa counties is over $850,000,000, representing 38 per cent of the total for the State. Of this percentage, San Francisco's valuation represents 21.7. When there is added the .10 represented by railroad valuations, there is represented a total of .48 of the total State valuation and assessment.

It is easy to calculate how this remainder of .52 per cent will be reduced by even a slight increase in the assessment of 1911. It is probable, as a matter of fact, that the actual tax, which will not be levied before then, will amount to less than $.045 on each $100 of assessed valuation.

It therefore remains for the individual with property assessed at $1000, to determine whether or not he believes that an exposition at San Francisco in 1915 is worth 50 cents or less to him.

Following is Mr. Nye's letter:

Controller's Department,

State of California.

Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

Gentlemen:

I am in receipt of your letter asking this department to furnish the committee with an estimate of how much the amendment relating to State taxation for exposition purposes will cost the taxpayers.

In reply I will say that it is easy to compute how much the amendment, if it were in force, would cost the taxpayer this year in proportion to the assessed value of his property, and perhaps this will answer your purpose.

Rate of Tax per $1, per $100 and per $1000.

The amount to be raised under the amendment is $1,250,000 per year for four successive years, beginning with 1911. For 1910 the State assessment roll amounts to $2,373,898,025. On this basis the computation would be:

ALL ARE WORKING FOR EXPOSITIONCalifornia Editors Unanimous In Favor of Tax

The sentiment of California editors toward the proposed State tax to aid the Panama-Pacific Exposition is thus commended on by the San Francisco Chronicle:

"Notes of dissent from the plan to levy a State exposition tax are so few and far between that they merely emphasize the general spirit of acceptance."

"At the meeting of the California Press Association the assembled editors voted unanimously and with enthusiasm for the tax."

"Then these gentlemen few are better qualified to speak for all the State, county by county and district by district. They are as representative in their way as the Legislature is in its way. And they stand for the exposition."

"The editors take the ground that the exposition will bring more people to the State than any other possible attraction; that, owing to low fares, the multitude which has had its life dream of seeing California will come; that it will be as much California as that fair that attracts the crowd; and further, that California can afford the tax for the ensuing benefits."

"Some of the strangers will come to see and advertise the State for years thereafter."

"Others will come to invest in California securities."

"Still others will come to settle down and grow up with the rest of us."

"As for the ability of this State to stand the tax, the editors concurred with Leon Sloss when he said:

"If Louisiana, with an assessment roll of $500,000,000, is willing to tax itself $5,000,000 to get the exposition, this State, with an assessed valuation of five times that sum, would be doing little enough in voting $5,000,000."

"And of this, as he might have added, San Francisco will pay one-fourth, after making her subscription of $7,500,000 and paying her special exposition tax of $5,000,000."

"It is a matter of felicitation that the State as a whole, containing as it does so many newcomers, is showing the old California spirit which has made its way over so many obstacles."

All Californians not only mean to have the fair properly financed, but they mean that it shall be the largest and finest world's fair ever held. That is their ambition—the largest and finest one in the history of such undertakings."

"And, as they are willing to foot the whole bill, they see no reason why Congress should not do its part and authorize them to go ahead."

SECTIONAL SPIRIT ELIMINATED.

It is the elimination of sectional spirit and the getting together for the whole State that makes the prospect so bright for the Panama-Pacific Exposition. This feeling was pictured most beautifully in the conference of the editors of Southern California. They came to be informed as to the proposition that is now before the voters of the State, the voting of $5,000,000 State bonds for the purpose of aiding the big fair. When the subject had been presented, pro and con, there was not a dissenting voice. All agreed that the whole State will be benefited if the exposition can be made truly great, and that is to get behind it with all possible force; which means with a united front.—Santa Barbara Press.

sessors..... 59,048,240

Total assessment of railroads.....$226,508,172

Tax at rate of $0.0005547..... 125,644.08

The deduction of 5 per cent is not made in above case because of the improbability that there will be any serious delinquency in railroad taxes.

It is impossible for me to give you data on the amount of tax on account of the exposition which will be paid by any other corporations than the railroads because the assessment values of the other classes of corporations are not segregated.

As before stated, all of the foregoing figures are predicated on the assessment values of 1910, save that the figures for assessments by County Assessors of railroads operated in 1909 (the latest available). If the State assessment roll of 1911 shows an increase over that of 1910, the first year's rate of tax for the exposition will be proportionately reduced below $5547 on $100.

Just at this time it is more difficult than usual—in fact, it is really impossible—to make any definite prediction concerning the future of the assessment roll. Only it is reasonable to assume that, since the wealth of the State will continue to grow, assessed values also will continue to increase.

Very truly yours,

(Signed)

A. B. NYE,

Controller.

HATS OFF TO SAN FRANCISCO.

Say what you will, every man has got to take off his Panama hat to San Francisco for the way it is going after that exposition.—Los Angeles Herald.

Always Answered.

Children often are highly logical, though not quite in the adult manner. They attain conclusions by those processes of "pure reason" which, being quite unbiased by the opinions of others, sometimes result in startling truths.

Almost everybody, for instance, has heard of the little lad who, listening to the questions of an irreligious friend of the family as to what would happen supposing that one good Christian should pray for an east and another for a west wind at sea, innocently answered that of course there'd be an awful tempest, but not every one has heard of the equally pertinent and naive solution recently offered by a thoughtful youngster for the ever perplexing problem of "Are prayers answered?"

The child was talking with another, who asked the vexed and puzzling question, explaining at the same time that he didn't believe that prayers were answered, because he never got anything he asked for.

"You don't pray for the right things," answered little Mr. Wiseman. "Of course all prayers are answered, but sometimes the answer is 'Yes' and sometimes it's 'No.'"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Leaving a Man Helpless.

"That statement made me think," said a veteran newspaper man to the Cincinnati Times-Star, "of the celebrated row between President Cleveland's colored man and Secretary Hoke Smith's colored man. The two were exercising their masters' horses out on a country road and got into a dispute as to what is the best thing in the world. Finally they made a bet of a dollar on it."

"Well, what is de best thing in the world?" asked Cleveland's man.

"Roses' possum and sweet taters," said Hoke Smith's man.

"Whoa!" says Cleveland's man, dragging at the bridle. He jumped to the ground, seized Hoke Smith's man by the leg and dragged him to the dust.

"Take that," says he, jamming him on the neck, "you miserable black rascal! You ain't leave me nuffin to guess at!"

Brain of the Bee.

In a German scientific periodical C. Jonecku gives the results of his studies of the brain of the bee. As might be expected from its wonderful instincts, this is found to be very complex. The various divisions of the brain are described in detail, but perhaps the most interesting part is the comparison of the brains of queens, workers and drones. The worker has a larger brain than the queen, and as the difference between queen and worker is the result of diet during the grub stage it appears that the food which develops size of body and fertility is not

Sanitation Should Begin at Home.

FORCING sanitation on the public costs money and although public health has been benefited by many needed reforms there are petty regulations insisted upon by civic authorities which increase the cost of living without really improving the manner of living. In this category we may put the sealed package of milk, which the hygienic declares an important necessity if we would decrease infant mortality and the spread of germ diseases. Milk is now higher than formerly, one factor in the advance in price being the sanitary requirements in the dairy—inspection and new equipment. This and the increased cost of feed brought the price of milk up in the cities, and the country dairymen catering to home trade were not slow to adopt a similar price schedule without the real justification for it. Now that sealed cartons are being advocated we may prepare to pay more for our milk and granting that the well-meaning authorities and health enthusiasts give us the impervious package the average housewife will still have to do her part (which she often fails to do), that of caring for the milk when delivered and seeing that the deadly fly does not get in its work in her own home. Household watchfulness is quite as an important factor in safeguarding health as anything else.

California and its Artists.

THE Old World is always spoken of with a reverence and principally so because of the history in which it is steeped—the brilliant figures it has produced, the wonderful waltz it has turned out. It has reaped and is reaping the fruits of centuries, while America is still in comparative adolescence. Withal we have a distinctive American literature, American art, political machine (not as defined by insurgent users) and other claims to matured individualities cradled in the New World. We have not yet won the praise from European connoisseurs, who look upon American art with suspicion, but do not question our taste when they can get our money. Yet withal, we are steadily attaining recognition and contributing much that is valuable to the world's work.

In San Francisco, which is the center of the newest part of the New World in the estimation of many, we have such a coterie of local artists that a special room in the Golden Gate Park museum has been set apart for their masterpieces, and among those in that little hall of fame are such men and women as Joulain, Martinez, Gamble, Peters, Cadenasso, Keith, Hill, Withrow, Aitken and McCormick, who have won more than national recognition.

THE appointment of Duncan McKinlay as Surveyor of the Port of San Francisco has nettled the "Bulletin" of that city more than anything since the repudiation of Heney. As a matter of fact it is fortunate that the State is still to claim the brilliant Congressman.

Republican Nominees Given Fine Reception in Glen Ellen

The Republican legislative and county candidates held forth in Glen Ellen on Thursday evening and were given a rousing reception, particularly Senator Walter F. Price, who has been made the victim of the mud batteries of the Santa Rosa Press Democrat. The Senator, as well as a number of other Republican nominees, are gaining ground down this way right along owing to the ill-advised and over-zealous attitude of our contemporary toward the Senator and other Republican nominees. The Press Democrat has a perfect right to oppose Senator Price on political grounds, but it should do so in a fair and manly way if it expects to elect any of its candidates, for this, you see, is a Republican county. The attitude of our otherwise esteemed contemporary reminds us of a little story, the telling of which, may prove of political profit to our Democratic contemporary. Once upon a time a Chinese was asked to explain why he worshiped the devil instead of God. "Oh, Melican man he no sabbe—Chinaman he heep sabbe," answered the wily chink. "God he heep good man, devil he no good; Chinaman he likee keep on right side of devil, see." Thus it should be with our short-sighted contemporary, because, you see, a Democrat is heep good when it comes to voting his ticket—a Republican no good. Therefore, reasoning on the same lines with the heathen, it behooves the Press Democrat to keep on the right side of the Republican, who is a heep bad man when it comes to voting his ticket straight.

Personal Mention

G. Della Maggiora was here from San Francisco on business several days this week.

Miss Douglass has rented her ranch at Buena Vista to Mr. Studley, a recent arrival in this valley. Mr. Studley intends to buy property here later on.

H. Turner, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, will shortly go south. His relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Jones, have been at his bedside attending to his wants ever since he became ill.

Invitations are out for a reception which will be tendered Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Duhring by Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Ryland at their home, "Pine Lodge," on Second-street East, on Friday evening, November 4th.

Mrs. W. Earl Baldwin, wife of a prominent Vallejo druggist, who has been sojourning in this valley for some time for the benefit of her health, is improving rapidly. Mr. Baldwin made a week end visit with his wife and was very much gratified with her improved condition.

Local stockholders in the Western States Life Insurance Company have received official notice of the death of President Briggs, who had worked with great earnestness for the upbuilding of the institution. No doubt his mantle will fall on worthy shoulders and all the plans laid out by him will be successfully carried forward.

THE HENEY AND KENT MEETING.

It Was a Drawing Card that Filled Union to Overflowing But Audience Did Not Enthuse for Kent

The Heney-Kent meeting here last Monday night filled Union Hall to overflowing. Everybody turned out to see and hear Frances J. Heney, who it was easily to be seen was the drawing card of the evening.

The meeting was presided over by Robert A. Poppe, President of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League of this city. Seated upon the platform with the chairman were Messrs. Heney and Kent, Alex. Gordon, candidate for Railroad Commissioner, John Wagoner, a good leaguer, and Rolfe Thompson of Santa Rosa.

Chairman Poppe, after a few preliminary remarks, introduced Mr. Kent, nominee for Congress. From the very start it was apparent that Kent was not a political idol, at least in old Sonoma. Still his uninteresting talk was listened to with respectful attention, but the speaker did not come in for that hearty reception always accorded a nominee for Congressional honors by the citizens of this town. Probably one reason for this lack of interest in the man was the fact that the crowd were there to hear Heney speak. Or, mayhap most those present were Zumwalt adherents and Duncan McKinlay sympathisers. But what ever the cause, it was dead certain Kent made a poor impression.

At the conclusion of Mr. Kent's talk, for it was talk pure and simple, for the candidate makes no pretense whatever to being a public speaker, Frances Heney was introduced to the assemblage and was received with hearty applause. For two hours in an extraordinary way he held the attention of his hearers without for a moment tiring them, and at times his sallies of wit were greeted with uproarious applause. His principal theme was insurgency, the railroads, the fitness of Mr. Kent for a seat in Congress and more railroads. At times Mr. Heney, who is a splendid orator, held the audience spell-bound, but it was plain to be seen the show was all Francis J. Heney and not William Kent, the Congressional nominee.

This was made apparent when after one of the most vivid flights of oratory ever listened to in this city, in which Mr. Heney pictured Mr. Kent's Chicago record, and appealed to the people to support him for the Congress. It was a beautiful flight of oratory but fell upon unresponsive ears. When Mr. Heney paused for the outburst of applause, which surely ought to have followed had Mr. Kent been a popular candidate, the large hall was as silent almost as a graveyard. There should have been a spontaneous outburst of applause following the peroration and Mr. Heney looked embarrassed while he waited for the applause which never came. However handicapped by the unpopularity of the candidate whose cause he was espousing, Mr. Heney certainly made good in everything except carrying his audience off its feet for Mr. Kent.

The gifted attorney was groomed to a nicety and never looked better in his life. His oratory and sallies of wit, like old wine, have improved with age, but with all his magnetism, vivid flights of oratory and mirth-provoking wit he failed to galvanize into life a candidate who is evidently a dead one in so far as old Sonoma is concerned.

Vote for G. E. Murdock for County Treasurer.

Attended Socialistic Meeting in Santa Rosa.

A delegation of followers of the Socialistic party of this city attended the meeting of the Socialists in Santa Rosa last Saturday evening to do honor to J. Salomonson.

BIG REPUBLICAN RALLY TO-NIGHT

Legislative and County Nominees to Meet the People of Sonoma at Union Hall

The Legislative and County nominees of the Republican party will meet the people of Sonoma and vicinity in Union Hall this evening. A grand reception is being prepared for them by the leading Republicans of the town. The Sonoma Valley Band has been engaged to furnish the music and the Santa Rosa Glee Club will entertain the audience with original campaign songs.

Let everybody turn out, regardless of party affiliations, and give the candidates a send-off befitting the banner Republican precinct of Sonoma County.

Vagaries of the Primary Election Law.

Dr. F. H. Phillips of Petaluma, a life-long Republican, will be the Democratic nominee on the official election ballot for Assemblyman in the Thirteenth District. It happened this way, and that "damphool" primary election law which the "reformers" has given us is responsible for the whole business. Dr. Phillips, who was defeated at the primary election last August by James W. Hamilton for the Republican nomination of Assemblyman in the Thirteenth District, received sufficient votes to make him the Democratic nominee. Dr. Phillips, being a good Republican, when he became cognizant of the honor thrust upon him by the vagaries of the primary election law, declined to run for the office on a ticket opposed to that of his own party and sought to have his name eliminated from the ticket. He appealed to the Democratic County Central Committee and also to County Clerk Fred. F. Wright to help him out of a dilemma which placed him in the embarrassing position of unwillingly bolting his own ticket, but without avail.

It now appears that instead of applying to the County Clerk, Dr. Phillips should have filed his request with Secretary of State Curry, the office of Assemblyman being a State instead of a county office under a strict interpretation of the law.

The result of this political mix-up is easily to be foreseen, because Dr. Phillips, who was defeated by Hamilton for the Republican nomination by a very close vote, is bound to receive the support of his Republican friends and most of the Democratic ballots will be cast for him. This will elect him without a reasonable doubt and make a good Democratic statesman out of Republican material. Now, don't that jar you?

The Supreme Court is supposed to give all litigants a fair deal. The election of Judge Sloss will make that theory a fact as far as he is concerned. Vote for him.

ST. FRANCIS CHURCH BENEFIT A SUCCESS

Union Hall Crowded to the Doors With an Appreciative Audience

The benefit entertainment and dance given in Union Hall last Wednesday evening by the Catholic ladies in aid of Saint Francis Church was both a social and financial success. The large hall was crowded to the doors by an appreciative audience, who encored every number of the eleven on the program.

Mayor M. E. Cummings, who has become indispensable on all public occasions, not even excepting a Republican political meeting if called upon, acted as announcer.

The first number on the program was a piano duet by Misses Amelia Ciucci and Mary Pinelli, the only local talent which appeared. The duet was a musical gem and reflected credit on their teachers, the good Sisters of Presentation Convent. The balance of the program was carried out by high class talent from San Francisco which was more than appreciated by the audience. The baby wonder, Mildred Faber, in her Spanish dance, was one of the most graceful and charming little creatures ever seen upon the stage in this city or in any other for that matter.

The singing and dancing of little Irene Hannan, Dulcie Glyn and Hattie Fonca, pupils of Miss Dougherty, were really something out of the ordinary. These little girls possess extraordinary stage talent and are a whole show in themselves.

The recitation by Mrs. Marie Vallejo Cutter won for her an encore. Mrs. Cutter is an elocutionist of ability and she was at her best on this occasion.

San Francisco's favorite Elmer Gallagher and Ray Brouillet were the comedians of the evening and kept the audience in good humor.

Following the entertainment there was dancing and a good substantial supper, which was served by the Catholic ladies in the dining room of the Union Hotel, which mine host Koenig had very generously given up to the ladies.

Quite a neat sum was realized which will be donated to St. Francis Church.

SONOMA INDIANS ON WAR PATH

An Aborigine Fatally Stabbed by a Fellow Tribesman Near Agua Caliente

A sanguinary conflict took place between two Indians on the Wat-riss ranch near Agua Caliente, last Thursday afternoon, and as a result, one of them, Jack Farmer, may die from the effects of knife wounds inflicted upon him by his adversary, who is known as Leandro.

The Indians involved are remnants of the survivors of thousands who roamed the Sonoma Valley seventy-five years ago. The cause of the difficulty was an Indian maiden with whom the combatants were enamored. After the cutting the would-be slayer made good his escape, going in the direction of Santa Rosa.

Dr. Leix was summoned to attend the wounded aborigine, and found him in a very bad way. There was a knife thrust through the left lung, a deep cut in the shoulder and one on the arm. The wound in the lung is a most dangerous one and may prove fatal. The wounded Indian is the same who recently shot a hobo through the arm with a shotgun, and the trouble was over the identical "Mahala" involved in the difficulty Thursday afternoon. At latest accounts Leandro was still at large with Deputy Sheriff Ryan hot on his trail. The fugitive is hiding in the brush between Agua Caliente and Santa Rosa and will undoubtedly be captured and landed in jail to answer for his crime.

Basalt Block Industry.

H. C. Manuel, the basalt block contractor, who has opened up quarries on the Lewis ranch west of this city and also near Kenwood, has been making heavy shipments of paving blocks the past week from the Sonoma depot siding to San Francisco over the Northwestern Pacific. Mr. Manuel, who years ago was engaged in the basalt block industry here and employed many men, is again entering the field on a large scale.

Work on the New Odd Fellows Hall Has Commenced.

The contract for building the new Odd Fellows Hall having been let last week to Wm. Stradeling of Petaluma, the contractor has already got a move on and is laying the foundation of the new structure. The building will occupy the site of the structure destroyed by fire last spring and will be a modern two-story brick affair. The upper story will be used exclusively for lodge purposes and the ground space for stores.

HYDE WILL FILED FOR PROBATE

Deceased Left the Bulk of His Estate to His Children—Wife to Receive $1,000 Annually

The will of the late Wm. H. Hyde, the pioneer rancher of this valley, who died on October 8th, at the ripe old age of ninety, was filed for probate in the Superior Court of this county last Thursday by Stewart & Tucker, attorneys for the estate, which is easily worth $150,000. The petition, accompanying the application for the probate of the will states that the property is worth in excess of $10,000, but names no particular value. The estate, however, is a very valuable one. The widow and son are named as executors in the will, which is an olographic one. It bequeaths $1000 annually to his wife, to be paid in quarterly installments, and the residue is left in equal shares to his six children. The latter are Mrs. Abbie L. Lewis, Lucy J. Hyde, Elizabeth R. H. Roberts, William H. Hyde, H. C. Hyde and Walter S. Hyde.

Spectacular Blaze in El Verano

The burning of a house on the El Verano townsite tract lit up the heavens of the entire valley at 9:30 o'clock Thursday night. The burning building, which occupied a site in an isolated portion of the town, was formerly owned by Phil Rossi, who only disposed of it two or three weeks ago to Mr. and Mrs. Emil Klarson of San Francisco. It made a spectacular blaze and many people here who witnessed the sight thought the entire town of El Verano was in flames. The loss was $1200, which was covered by $600 insurance.

Fetters-Levy Civil Suit

The civil suit instituted by Mrs. Emma Fetters against Morris Levy to recover possession of Fetters' Hot Springs at Agua Caliente several weeks ago, again bobbed up in the Superior Court of this county last Saturday. Thos. J. Geary, attorney for the defendant, answered the complaint filed by lawyers Mathewson and Cowan, attorneys for plaintiff. In his answer Levy denies the allegations in plaintiff's complaint and cites the fact that the plaintiff has accepted regular payments from him for rent of the premises which he declares is a bar to any action to break his lease of the premises.

Santa Rosa Republican Glee Club

One of the attractions of tonight's Republican meeting in Union Hall will be the appearance of the Santa Rosa Republican Glee Club, which will entertain the audience with several witty campaign songs.

Voters, remember G. E. Murdock for County Treasurer.

Woman's Club Notes

Last Friday was social day at the Woman's Club. The hostess of the afternoon, Mrs. Henry Burmester, had arranged very effective decorations of grape vines, rich in their autumnal foliage. After a short period of business, the members were entertained by a paper both thoughtful and humorous, read by Mr. Richard Piatt, and giving, under the figurative title of "A Yellow Primrose," many ideals of civic usefulness.

An instrumental duet was rendered by Miss Riensch and Mrs. Duhring, and after the program was ended delicious sherbet and cakes were served.

QUEER NATURAL HISTORY.

Some Curious Eighteenth Century Descriptions of Animals.

Some curious specimens of folklore and natural history are contained in a rare book called "The Sportsman's Dictionary," which was published toward the end of the eighteenth century. The author was evidently a Philistine among Philistines in his attitude toward nature.

Of the master musician, the black bird, he says:

"This bird is known by all persons and is better to be eaten than kept, being much sweeter to the palate when dead and well roasted than to the ear while living; sings about three months in the year, or four at most, though his song is worth nothing, but if he be taught to whistle he is of some value, being very loud, though coarse."

And here is a story of the squirrel with the ring in it of the seventeenth century. It reminds one of the hares of Isaac Walton, that changed their sexes once a year:

"If what is reported of them be true the admirable cunning of the squirrel appears in her (where we commonly use 'his' when the sex need not be specified) our ancestors often used 'her' swimming or passing over a river, for when she is constrained by hunger so to do she seeks out some kind or small bark of a tree, which she sets upon the water and then goes into it, and, holding up her tail like a sail, lets the wind drive her to the other side and carries meat in her mouth to prevent being famished by the length of the voyage."

Of the wild boar we have this: "And what place soever he bites, whether man or dog, the heat of his teeth causes inflammation in the wound. If therefore he does but touch the hair of a dog he burns off—nay, huntsmen have tried the heat of his teeth by laying bare on them as soon as he was dead, and they have shriveled up as if touched with a hot iron."

WIND AND NERVES.

Effects of Breezes From the East, West and Northwest.

The east winds hug the earth closely and gather moisture, dust and bacteria. They are cold and humid, altogether forming an enervating influence on human and animal life and rendering it susceptible to the disease germs which the winds carry and disseminate.

The cool, pure northwest winds come, from a region of dry, highly electrified air where ozone exists in comparatively large quantities. They are invigorating. The framework of nerves in the human being is like a delicate electrical apparatus, the nerves being the wires and the brain and ganglia receiving and distributing centers.

Every one knows that a telephone works better on a clear, dry day than on a wet, muggy one. The moist atmosphere lessens vitality. The nerve wires grow flaccid and heavy. The messages become confused. Hence low spirits, melancholia, distorted mental outlook, faulty assimilation, and disease.

The opposite effects flow from the northwest winds. The west and northwest winds keep the mucous membranes of the body in good working order. The coating of moisture which is always present with the east wind disappears. Absence of any wind if long continued has a bad effect on the human body and mind.

A prolonged calm means lack of ventilation on a great scale. The winds serve to mix in normal proportions the gases which compose the atmosphere, and in this way they are conducive to health up to a certain point. Beyond about twenty miles an hour their influence begins to be unfavorable.—Chicago Tribune.

Dropped In on the Bears.

The removing of the polar bears at the zoo recalls that some years back a visitor dropped in on these bears. A hat fell into the pit, and its owner at once jumped in after it. He alighted on a bear who made him welcome. It seized him by the shoulder and walked him round and round. Luckily the visitor kept his feet until a keeper opened a side door and pulled him into safety. But the hat was left behind. On the following day the man sent to the society a letter in which he claimed the cost of a new hat.—London Tatler.

A Vicious Fish.

In South America there is a small fish that not only attacks its fellows of the sea and river, but is greatly dreaded by the natives, who during certain seasons have to ford the streams in which the caribitos are found. Bathing is often attacked by them, the sharp, chisel shaped teeth taking a bit from the flesh wherever they attack. They are perfect scavengers, eating the animals that float down the river—dead or alive.

The Deduction.

"There's a proverb that fits every man."
"What one fits me?"
"To whom God gives office, he also gives brains."
"But I have no office."
"Well, don't you see how it fits?"—Cleveland Leader.
